Good morning Ms. Fortune,

I will reach out to our purchasing agent. We, unfortunately, requested the contract be cancelled because we have specific needs for this population. I will circle back to her and let you know what is going on.

Thanks,

Good morning,

I wanted to follow up on the status of our contract with Rebound. Has the contract officially been cancelled? I have still been unable to hire a therapist meeting the needs of this program. I do have a male therapist on my team who would be a good fit for the need; however, he would only be willing to drive to Dekalb one day a week to see clients in person and would request that all sessions be facilitated at an office or community setting, with the clients driving to him. I believe that the needs of this program are that the therapist be willing to go to the participants' homes; however, I wanted to double check.

Thank you,

Anna Fortune, LPC, CPCS, ICAADC

Ms. Jones,

I appreciate your understanding. As I am recruiting, and even having discussions with current therapists, it has been tough trying to get anyone to be willing to go back to seeing clients in person. Again, I apologize that this partnership has not worked out like we had hoped and envisioned.

Thank you,

Hi Ms. Fortune,

Thank you for the update. I understand your dilemma. This is a unique situation due to the pandemic and many other factors. Unfortunately, we are beginning to get new clients in and need a therapist. We may have to move forward with canceling this contract. It will not prevent your company from doing business with us in the future. I will speak with court administration and see how we move forward.

Good afternoon Ms. Jones,

Unfortunately, we have not been able to secure a therapist for the program. We still have an open internal and external listing for the position, but nothing has panned out yet. Please let me know what we need to do moving forward if we are unable to attain an appropriate candidate to meet this need.

Thank you,
