REI products are designed and intended for legal commercial applications. Because laws and regulations vary from state to state and country to country, it is the sole responsibility of the purchaser and user to understand and comply with all applicable laws and regulations for the possession and operation of this equipment before and after making a purchase.

The REI products, components, and technology provided to you are subject to U.S. Export Administration Regulations, Trade Sanctions, and Embargoes, and may be subject to similar laws, regulations, or requirements in other countries. Any export, re-export, or transfer of any REI products, components, or technology must be conducted in compliance with such applicable laws and regulations. REI products may NOT be exported, re-exported or transferred to a Military End User or intended for Military End Use in the People's Republic of China, Russia, Burma, Cambodia, or Venezuela. Diversion contrary to U.S. law is strictly prohibited.

The US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977, as amended (the "FCPA" or the "Act"), makes it illegal for U.S. citizens and companies, their officers, directors, employees and agents, and any stockholders acting on their behalf, as well as foreign companies and persons acting in the United States, to make payments to foreign government officials to assist in obtaining or retaining business. REI acts in accordance to the FCPA, and REI resellers and sales partners must also comply with the FCPA. Please see the United States Department of Justice website for more information: <http://www.justice.gov/>

Please note: The purchaser is responsible for all import duties, customs clearing fees, and/or taxes (VAT) that may be due when shipment reaches the country of import, including training equipment duties, customs clearing fees, and/or taxes that may apply to training equipment for temporary import.

Lead times may change without notice and indicate the estimated time when products will be available for shipment from receipt and acknowledgement of purchase order and verification of acceptable payment terms. REI is not responsible for customs/shipping delays.
