

Randall Mangham, Esq. Bio

Randal Mangham is a lawyer, legislator, entrepreneur and clergyman. He is a principal in the law firm of Randal Alonzo Mangham LLC in Atlanta, GA. From 1987 to present serving as President of Metropolitan Management Corporation, an energy, infrastructure and telecommunications company. Mr. Mangham provides business and legal services to local, national and global concerns, including comprehensive technical and advisory services for strategic protection and development of individual and corporate interests. He is distinguished in his ability to analyze existing challenges and opportunities to develop innovative customized solutions and road maps to success. As a practicing attorney, he advances and negotiates business and legal issues and positions to maximize potential and value.

He was elected to the Georgia House of Representatives in 2000 and represented the 94th House District of Georgia (D), which included DeKalb and Rockdale counties. He served on the Telecommunications, Energy, & Public Utilities, Children & Youth and Judiciary NC Committees until unsuccessfully vying for Governor in 2010.

Mr. Mangham has been in the private practice of law since 1980, specializing in the areas of business, personal injury, and civil matters. He has represented individuals, nonprofits and governmental interests in a number of areas, including civil and voting rights litigation and medical negligence. Internationally, he has led with primary responsibility in drafting, structuring and implementing the corporate aspects of the contractual relations to partner and joint venture East African companies with those in the U.S. pursuant to a United Nations UNIDO initiative. He is Chair of the Georgia Africa Chamber of Commerce. He has served as City Attorney and City Judge of Greenville, GA and also partner in the law firm of Kendall, Mangham, Kendall and Hurst.